ANAHEIM CAMPUS

May 7, 2012

The Anaheim Police Department was called to the Anaheim Campus of the North Orange County Community College District today to investigate a suspicious bottle containing an unidentified liquid in the southeast corner of the parking lot. After an initial investigation, the Anaheim Police Department called in the Orange County Sheriff Department's bomb squad who determined the item was not an explosive device. The Anaheim Fire Department's hazardous materials unit was then called in for further investigation. After surveying the liquid, it was concluded that the liquid was not a hazardous material, did not present a safety threat and was removed from campus. No one was injured.
